

Welcome to Week #1 of the NEOYBL!

Please remember the following information:

- All team roster forms and waiver forms are due prior to the tip off of your first game
- Each team will provide 1 score table operator. The home team(listed first) will do the book and the away team(listed second) will operate the score board. Have your table operators organized prior to arriving at the gym. They are a very important part of the game and should take their role seriously.
- The official scoresheet is provided by our league and will be on the table. Please leave the scoresheet on the table. That is our official record of the game and teams are not allowed to keep these.
- The website, www.ohiobasketball.com will be updated each Sunday with the scores and records from the previous day.
- Each year the man to man defense rules is debated. Please read the rules carefully. Teams are allowed to play helpside, but can not play a zone. These are 2 very different things. If you have any questions, please ask. Tucker will be at the Edge the entire day on Saturday December 3rd. Zone is guarding an area and not being matched up to the same man. Man is staying matched to the same man, but the ability to play help side when the offensive man is 2 or 3 passes away is allowed.
- Best of luck to everyone this weekend!!
